

“Keep a moment from running away”

“Never Get Your Selfie Failed”

“Protect your phone & take selfie”

“Take the best selfie wherever you go”

IPG® came-up with the world’s first application free wireless remote camera shutter integrated in a case. It is called vSelfie®. This unique case not only keeps your device protected also gives you a greater degree of control and flexibility when it comes to capturing your favorite moments. The remote shutter pairs to your phone via Bluetooth® and slides out from the back of the case. Using the remote, you can take pictures and videos without being limited to how you hold your phone. Also integrated a built-in angle adjustable stand helps you to get the best angle on your next self-portrait or set up the perfect group photo. vSelfie® gives you the freedom to make every moment picture-perfect without a selfie arm.

The idea behind the vSelfie® is that users can pull the remote out of the case, turn it on, use the integrated phone stand, then go pose in front of it and use the remote to snap their picture or movie. When they’re done, the remote and stand just slides back into the case and stays there until next time.

Users can set up their phones up to 30 feet away to fit all their friends into the frame. Besides selfies, you can also use it to remotely trigger the shutter to avoid moving the phone, keeping the image as still as possible.

Unlike other remote controls V-Selfie has a USB rechargeable battery. No hassle to find right size battery and change it. When it’s fully charged, it works 3 months, 10 times a day.

vSelfie® is available for iPhone 6 and iPhone 6 Plus. Colors are: Blue, Pink, Green, Black and White

It retails $39.95
